Fill The First Vermont

The War Department has assured the officers of the First Vermont Infantry that if enough enlistments can be secured throughout this state during the next few weeks, the regiment may retain its identity and carry the Vermont Flag to France.

> Drafted men who are awaiting call are permitted to enlist by signifying such desire to their local board and voluntarily inducting themselves into the service. Men under and over draft age may enlist as formerly. Both those inducted and those enlistling will be sent to the First Vermont Infantry at Charlotte, North Carolina, and they will be accorded all the privileges of volunteers. These men will be entitled to the extra pay of the Vermont soldier.

Anyone wishing to enlist or to obtain in ormation as to entering the service can do so by applying either to the office of the local board or to the Banner Office.

The War Department has left it up to Vermont whether the state will have a regiment of its own or whether it will allow itself to be broken up according to the fate of other militia regiments.
